Activity

Skiing

Rode into The Throne via Battle Ridge on Sun. Trail in is heavily bumped and dirt starting to show. Guessing it will be about finished by the end of the week with the higher temperatures. Skied a couple of laps on The Throne. Top layer was soft/slushy, or corn like, but the rest of the snowpack was one finger hardness until the bottom 10". Bottom of the snowpack remains rotten. We saw two small point releases that were maybe 15' wide, caused by warming. Otherwise the snowpack felt stable in our area.

Traveled N to a subridge of Naya Nuki and found similar results. No recent avalanche activity noted.
