

Old Crown on Miller Ridge

Date

Mon, 01/06/2025 - 15:40

Activity

Skiing

Skied north of Cooke today. The light wasn't great, but I think there is an older avalanche on the east face of Miller Ridge in steep terrain. Could barely make out a crown line near the ridge and old debris on the apron. Maybe it ran 3-5 days ago? No cr, co and the winds were light out of the W-NW, moderate at ridge tops. We picked up 8cm of low density new snow overnight, plus an additional 1cm throughout the day today.

Region

Cooke City

Location (from list)

Miller Ridge

Observer Name

Nina Marienthal