

Upper elevation, north facing slopes around Cooke City have a snowpack that's 5-6 feet deep. As the snowpack gets deeper, it becomes more difficult to impact weak layers near the ground. However, if a slide is triggered on facets near the ground, it will carry a lot of volume and likely be large and destructive. Photo GNFAAC

Advisory Region
Cooke City

Forecast link: GNFAAC Avalanche Advisory for Sat Dec 31, 2016GNFAAC Avalanche Advisory for Sun Jan 1,

2017

Cooke City, 2016-12-30